The Arcadian Philosophy

At Arcadian, we strive to create wine that fully expresses the distinct characteristics of each vineyard and California's Central Coast region. To this end, whenever possible we gain control over the vineyard by leasing the land as opposed to simply purchasing the grapes at harvest. By controlling yields from these vineyards and keeping the very low (we farm our Pinot Noir to 2-2.5 tons to an acre), we increase grape quality. The resulting wine speaks more about where it come from than about the hand that make it. This "somewhereness" vs "someoneness" concept appeals to us because we believe the best wine is make more in the vineyard than in the winery.

White & Red Wines....

Jean-François Ganavet (Jura)

Over the past decade, the world's love affair with the idiosyncratic wines of the Jura has brought unprecedented attention to this remote region of eastern France. And as a result, the Jura's top their wines.

And no other Jura vigneron's star has risen faster than that of Jean-François Ganavet. Through the diversity, originality and sheer brilliance of his wines, he's drawn comparison to the likes of Coche, Mayer and Dagueneau as a producer whose wines transcend their appellations.

Even more startling is the range of wines he makes: more than forty cuvées, each individual in character but highly consistent in quality. Such an achievement can be explained only by the lengths to which Ganavet is willing to go.
